SUBJECT: REVISION TO THE BASIC STANDARDS FOR RESIDENCY TRAINING IN EMERGENCY MEDICINE

SUBMITTED BY: Bureau of Osteopathic Education

REFERRED TO: BOT Reference Committee 1

WHEREAS, if all American Osteopathic Association (AOA) approved emergency medicine programs do not achieve Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) accreditation by June 30, 2020, there may be emergency medicine residents in training in AOA-approved programs until June 30, 2023; and

WHEREAS, the number of residents will make participation in the American College of Osteopathic Emergency Physicians (ACOEP) Resident-In-Service Examination costly for the ACOEP to create as well as provide an insignificant statistical sample of results to provide any useful evaluation of participant results; and, be it further

RESOLVED, that the Basic Standards for Residency Training in Emergency Medicine, be revised as follows and APPROVED:

[old material crossed out; new material in capital letters]

7.6 The resident shall annually participate in the EMERGENCY MEDICINE APTITUDE AND ASSESSMENT TEST ACOEP Resident In-Service Examination.
