Introduction

The American Osteopathic Association’s Commission on Osteopathic College Accreditation (COCA) accredits osteopathic medical education programs leading to the DO degree in the United States (programmatic accreditation). The COCA also accredits free-standing colleges of osteopathic medicine where no other educational program is offered (institutional accreditation) and serves as the federal Title IV gatekeeper for those institutions. By assessing the compliance of osteopathic medical education programs based on the nationally accepted standards of the COCA, we serve the interests of the public and of the students enrolled in our colleges of osteopathic medicine (COMs).

To achieve and maintain accreditation, an osteopathic medical education program leading to the Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine (DO) degree must meet the standards contained in this document. The COCA regularly reviews the accreditation standards, and seeks feedback from the osteopathic community and public. Changes to the COCA standards are considered at a public hearing before a final vote for adoption is made by the COCA. Once approved, new or revised standards are published in Accreditation of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine: COM Accreditation Standards, which indicates when the changes become effective.

New and developing COMs proceed through a three-stage process prior to reaching full accreditation:

1. Applicant status
2. Candidate status
3. Pre-accreditation status

This document is organized into a series of standards, each of which includes a concise statement of the principles that represent the standard. The elements of each standard specify the components that collectively constitute the standard; they are statements that identify the variables that the COCA considers in evaluating a medical education program’s compliance with the standard.

Additional information on the accreditation actions may be found in the Accreditation of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine: COCA Policies and Procedures document. Additional information about the accreditation process and the standards and elements may be obtained from the COCA office (predoc@osteopathic.org) or from the COCA website (www.aoacoca.org).
NOTICE TO ALL COMs

The submission of any information pursuant to the following accreditation standards is subject to the COCA’s submission of that information to the USDE in compliance with the Department’s regulatory requirements to determine recognition of the COCA as an accrediting agency. So as to provide comprehensive and accurate information to the Department, the COCA does not redact any information received from any COM. Accordingly, please be advised that, should a COM wish to have redacted information submitted to the Department, a COM must submit to the COCA two sets of the same information. The first set must be an unredacted compilation of all responses to the accreditation standards and the second set must be redacted according to what the COM wishes to have remain confidential. The redacted document must include the word “redacted” in its title and file name.
Applicant Status

Applicant status is the initial step in seeking accreditation. This status is offered without rights or privileges of accreditation, and does not establish or imply recognition by the COCA. Applicant status is granted upon the formal request for evaluation submitted by the Chief Executive Officer of the applicant COM.

Applicant status is not made public by the COCA and must not be advertised or publicized by the applicant status COM. A school at this stage should identify themselves as “XCOM (applicant status – seeking accreditation)”.

The Applicant Status Request Form is to be completed and submitted to the COCA at least 36 months and no more than 60 months prior to the anticipated matriculation date of the first class of students. An application for applicant status must also be accompanied by a non-refundable application fee as prescribed in the fee schedule.
Candidate Status

Candidate status is the second step in seeking accreditation by an applicant COM and is conferred with the privilege of recognition by the COCA, which will be publicly announced. Candidate status may be granted to COMs that demonstrate the planning and resources necessary to be expected to be able to proceed to pre-accreditation status within two years.

An applicant for candidate status must submit a candidate status self-study along with a feasibility study (business plan) that assesses the viability of the proposed new COM. The feasibility study (business plan) must be developed in partnership with a professional nationally known external business consulting firm. The COM dean and administrative team must play an integral role in the development of these documents. An application for candidate status must also be accompanied by a non-refundable application fee as prescribed in the fee schedule.

It is expected that a dean will be hired at least 12 months prior to the submission of the candidate status documents and will provide the principal guidance and direction in the development of the COM through all steps of the candidate status process and beyond through pre-accreditation status and into accreditation. A change in the dean during this time period requires re-initiation of the candidate status application process.

It is also expected that the dean will hire qualified individuals at the associate/assistant dean level to assist him/her in the development of the COM through candidate status and into pre-accreditation status and ultimate progress to accreditation. A minimum of two associate deans must be under contract with the COM before candidate status will be granted.

The COM holding candidate status may not recruit, accept applications from, or admit prospective students. This means that a COM holding this status may not do any of the following:

- Use solicitation to recruit students
- Solicit or collect application fees
- Collect application information, including academic transcripts, Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) scores, and letters of recommendation
- Initiate the admission review process
- Schedule interviews for any potential applicants
- Offer advice on financial aid
- Issue letters of admittance into the COM

Candidate Status Process

1. Applicant COM submits candidate status self-study and feasibility study (business plan) and non-refundable application fee.
2. The teach-out and operating escrow agreements must be submitted with the self-study.

4. COCA or COCA executive committee reviews self-study and feasibility study.

5. Proposed COM may offer testimony at the time of COCA/COCA Executive Committee review.

6. The COCA/COCA Executive Committee may receive third-party comments.

7. In order for an applicant COM to achieve candidate status, 100% of the candidate standards must be met.

8. Applicant COM must fund, and demonstrate evidence of, escrow accounts prior to the COCA’s grant of candidate status.

9. COCA approves or denies candidate status.

10. In the event the COCA denies a candidate status application, the COCA may, at its discretion, direct that a new application for candidate status be submitted or that supplemental information be submitted. In either event, the fees required by the COCA fee schedule shall apply.
Candidate Status Process

1. Applicant COM submits Candidate Self-Study and Feasibility Study with required fees
2. COCA staff reviews submitted materials
3. COCA or COCA Executive Committee reviews submitted materials
4. Not Approve
5. Approve

Review of Candidate Status

Candidate status will be reviewed through submitted written annual reports until the COM achieves Pre-Accreditation Status. If the COM has not been able to proceed to pre-accreditation status within 24 months of the granting of candidate status, the candidate status will be withdrawn. A re-application will require a new candidate status self-study and application fee.

Pre-Accreditation status will be reviewed annually through written reports until the COM achieves accreditation following graduating its first class. An on-site visit will occur during the first and fourth years of class offerings. If the COM has not been able to proceed to accreditation status within five years of the grant of pre-accreditation status, the pre-accreditation status will be withdrawn. A teach-out agreement will then be initiated.
